

Vanessa R. Anderson
3725 Martinique Ave.
Boulder, CO. 80301

Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554
Re: MB Docket No. 04-233

Wednesday, October 20, 2004

Dear Sirs:

With regard to how the new broadcast service known as Low Power FM (LPFM) will affect my family and community as residents of Boulder, Colorado, please consider the following:

By allowing LPFM stations to take precedence over current FM translator services, my family and I understand that we might no longer be able to listen to K-LOVE, a family-friendly radio broadcast upon which we have come to rely.

K-LOVE is the one radio station we can turn to locally for Christian inspiration and encouragement in a format that appeals to every member of our family. There are other local Christian stations, but they do not play the music or provide the programming that my family and I find appealing and meaningful. The K-LOVE format is upbeat and positive. The music choices they make are inspirational. Their programming is focused on supporting their Christian member's spiritual growth and emotional well-being. Their nation-wide focus provides an insight into Christian activities and concerns across the United States, something we cannot get from other local Christian radio stations.

As a parent, I never worry about profanity or the constant excerpts of profanity from the lyrics of the songs played on K-LOVE. We listen to pop, rock, country, rap, and other forms of music, but K-LOVE is the only station we can receive locally that allows us to hear the worship music sung and played in our local Church. It's the only local station where I can hear new contemporary Christian music that I am then inclined to purchase for my own collection.

Without K-LOVE, our community would not have a safe, family-friendly and commercial-free radio station that we so desperately need to provide an alternative to the offensive rap lyrics and sexually explicit pop songs. My family members are beyond the age where we enjoy children's radio stations, and K-LOVE is the only station we can receive locally that appeals to all members of our family. I know other members of my Church and community feel the same way about K-LOVE.

For individuals and families who are looking for a choice... an uplifting, un-offensive, inspirational and entertaining radio station in the Denver/Boulder Colorado area, K-LOVE provides a one-of-a-kind public service. There are many listening alternatives for pop, rock, talk, sports, rap, R&B, and Country radio listeners. However, there is only one station available in our area that fills the Christian programming niche in a way that has cross-generational appeal. That station is K-LOVE.

Please don't let this new approach to LPFM stations take priority over current FM translator services so that the one station my teen-age daughter and I can enjoy together (K-LOVE) is no longer available to us.

Sincerely,

Vanessa Anderson